

About the Author

Dr. T. H. Chowdary holds a Bachelor's Degree in Telecommunications. He held executive, managerial and directorial positions (General Manager, Deputy Director General) in the Departments of (a) Information and Broad-casting and (b) Telecommunications, of the Government of India. He was the founding Chairman and Managing Director of India's Overseas Communications Corporation [VSNL]. He was Governor, INTELSAT, (Washington) and Executive Director, INMARSAT, (London). He was Senior Expert of the International Telecommunications Union [ITU] in Guyana and Yemen and was engaged by the CIDA (Canada) for writing the Green Paper for restructuring of Telecoms in South Africa and for drafting Information and Communications Policy in Nepal. He was Member of India's National Task Force on Information Technology and Software. In these several capacities he travelled 75 times to over 50 countries including the former USSR and China. He is a Distinguished Fellow of the Institution of electronic & Telecom Engineers (India) and it's past President. He is the founding Director of the Center for Telecom Management and Studies [India] an I.C.T think-tank and intellectual campaigner for liberalization of India's telecommunications and for extensive deployment of information and communication technologies in Government and mass use for informatisation of society.

He is Chairman of Pragna Bharathi [Intellect India], a think -tank and a platform for deliberations on socio-political, economic, educational and developmental issues confronting India. He is the author of several books on telecommunications, information technology, Indian culture and politics and Editor /Member, Board of Editors of several journals (national and international) on telecommunications & information technology. (eg: INFO; Telecommunications Policy, both from the UK). He has been editing and publishing the monthly Journal of the Center for Telecom Management and Studies since 1992, He also writes on socio-political affairs, Indian History, culture, Bharatiya scientific heritage, current problems of India, 'secularism' etc. He edits two monthly Journals called, Bharatiya Pragna since 1997 and 'Secularism' Combat, since May 2003. Since 1997, Dr. Chowdary is Information Technology Advisor in the rank of Minister of State to the Government of Andhra Pradesh [India], mentoring the State's extensive programmes for e-Governance, Government to Citizen [G2C] services (e-Seva) on the Internet, computer education in schools and colleges and broadband applications. He is also a Fellow of Tata Consultancy Services and Satyam Computer Services (the number 1 and 4 IT companies of India) and Director of a number of Telecom & I.T Companies.