

About the Author

After a degree in B.Tech. electrical engineering (Power), R. Sri Kumar first joined the Central Public Works Department through the Engineering Services examination and then the Indian Police Service. He served in Uttar Pradesh, Karnataka and the CBI before retiring as Director General of Police Karnataka in 2009. He is a recipient of the Indian Police Medal for meritorious Service (1989) and President's Police medal for Distinguished Services (1995) and was awarded the Distinguished Alumnus award of IIT Madras in 2009. He also got a Master of Business Laws degree from the National Laws School of India University, Bangalore in 2003. From October 2010 he is one of the three member ombudsman body called the Central Vigilance Commission, New Delhi.

