

About the Author

Born in 1953, Dr. V.M. Katoch is the secretary to the Government of India, Department of Health Research and Director General, Indian Council of Medical Research (ICMR). Previously, he was the Director of National JALMA Institute of Leprosy and other Mycobacterial diseases (ICMR, Agra).

Dr. Katoch has a research experience of around 33 years. He has over 225 publications in various prestigious journals. His field of research includes Microbiology, Leprosy and Genetics. Dr. Katoch is honored with the fellowships of National Academy of Science (FNASc), National Academy of Medical Sciences (FNAMS), Indian Academy of Science, Bangalore and Indian National Science Academy (FNA). He is a recipient of various awards like Ranbaxy Science Foundation Award 2003 for Medical Research, Dr.CGS Iyer Oration Award (ICMR), 1990, Sher-I-Kashmir Sheikh Mohd. Abdulla Memorial Oration Award, 1989 and IAMM Endowment Award 2003.